THE NEW RACE BOAT of the Carolina Independent Boat Club upon a second examination was found not to have been as much injured as was supposed. She has been placed in the hands of a skilful boatwright, and when repaired it is understood that she will be rebeived by the club. This is good news for the lovers of boat-racing, and it is now probable that the long expected race between the two lie on a muddy bank, and it is thought they clubs will come off about the second week in day afternoon, about 4 o'clock, a colored man of several hundred dollars, ewing to the forcnamed Charles Bracy, after indulging his love for the ardent by numerous drinks, became very independent and rolled through the rain in King street, making as much noise as he could. A policeman arrested Charles, and was about taking him to the Guardhouse when a colored friend of the prisoner's came up and attempted to rescue him from the clutches of the officer. The latter did his duty, and in a few moments the crowd saw two instead of one prisoner on the way to the Guardhouse. They were brought before the Mayor yesterday morning, and each sentenced to pay a fine of five dollars or spend five days in the House of Correction.

ASSUMING JURISDICTION -A warrant was yesterday issued by Trial Justice T. J. Mackey for the arrest of Henry C. Inwood, upon the affidavit of Alexander Singleton, in which the following statement is made: That on the 11th day of August, at Corn Hill, on the Dorchester Road, H. C. Inwood, intending to defraud deponent of his money and chattels, did falsely pretend to be a trial justice, he well knowing that he had never been commissioned a trial justice in this State, and by means of said presence he caused deponent to be arrested on a charge of larceny, and pretended to try deponent. That he then gave judgment on the said charge, and did, by virtue of this judgment, unlawfully obtain $10 from the defendant as a fine imposed with intent to defraud him. The defendant resides in the county, and his statement has not yet been heard. The trial justice is moving carefully in the matter, and the arrest will not be made until the charges are better authenticated than at

AN APPEAL FROM THE MAYOR .- Thomas Ferguson was brought before the Mayor yesterday morning and charged with being disor. derly, and assaulting Officer Hernandez while in the discharge of his duty. After the usua preliminaries, examining the officer, &c., the prisoner was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 or spend twenty days in jall. Thinking this rather one-sided; the defendant appealed to a trial justice; and was referred to Trial Justice T. J. Mackey. The prosecuting officer statedthat Ferguson had, without provocation, assaulted and struck him several blows with his The streets were perfectly flooded, and in fist while he was attempting to discharge his duty as an officer and arrest the prisoner. A number of witnesses were examined, and at the conclusion the justice found the prisoner "not guilty" of an assault and battery, "not guilty" of resisting an officer, but "guilty" of a breach of the peace. He was thereupon discharged with a fine of $1. It was intimated by the fastice that if the relative positions of osecutor and defendant in this case had been reversed, his decision would have been

CLUBS AND STARS Daphne Alexander, the "city stipendiary," lodged for being drunk and unable to take care of herself in Church street, was sentenced to pay a fine of ten dollars or spend twenty days in her usual boarding place, the House of Correction. With a grim smile at the idea of her paying the alternative fine, she took her departure with a proper escort for the House.

Thomas Brown, arrested for being drunk and disorderly in a store at the corner of Broad and King streets, forfeited a deposit of five dollars for his non-appearance in court.

J. H. Kahlen, for being intoxicated and raising a disturbance in Cumberland street, was sentenced to pay a fine of five dollars or spend five days in fail. John Jenkins, arrested for stealing a lot of clothing, was referred to a trial justice for exand bibulous disposition, was arrested for va-Julia Pinkney, a colored damsel, with a noisy grancy and sent to a trial justice to answer a warrant against her.

night, between 9 and 10 o'clock, a stabbing affray occurred at the southwest corner of Laurens street and East Bay, between Jerry Coleman and David Den, two white men. The result to the last named will probably be serious. Den was in Mr. Wehmann's store, purchasing some little things, after which he turned to leave the shop. Owing to the stormy weather there was but one of the store doors open, and in this stood Coleman, with one hand resting on each side. Without saying anything, Den pushed out, and, as he got on the street, Coleman drew a large knife and jumped upon him. A scuffle ensued, and before the two could be separated the knife had been used to some purpose. Den received a severe cut in the right hand, two stabs in the left arm, and two gashes in his head. He was immediately taken up and carried to his home, where the services of a skilful surgeon were at once procured. Yesterday he was lying in a critical condition, and Trial Justice Levy, having been sent for, went to his bedside and took his affidavit, from which the above facts are taken. Den is represented to be a quiet, character among his associates at Bennett's lumber yard, where he has been working for over twenty years. Coleman has been arrest-

THE GREAT STORM.

A Tenacious Visitor-Comparatively Little Damage in the City.

The great storm which began on Friday expended most of its force during the first coast, and yesterday was another very dismal and disagreeable day. The sun was obscured and the wind continued brisk, although not so high as during the two previous days, and there were several light falls of rain in-M. and lasted through the evening. The in velocity from ten to fourteen miles per hour. The barometer at 7 A. M. indicated 29.80 degrees, fell to 29.76 at 5 P. M., and rose again to 29.78 by 9 P. M., and the relative humidity of the atmosphere rose between 5 it is to be hoped may prove to be the case. Very little additional damage by the storm was reported yesterday, and it seems that outside of the injury that may have been done to the crops on the islands, which remains to be proved, that but little damage was occasioned by the storm in this vicinity. An old house on Sullivan's Island was blown down during the gale of Saturday, and three of the vessels loading with phosphates in Bull River dragged heavy blow, and went ashore on the south bank. One of them was almost loaded. No damage to the vessels is apprehended, as they will float off at the approaching spring tides. In the city the principal damage was caused by the leakage of the roofs. "The Almshouse DISTURBANCE ON KING STREET .- On Satur- leaked; the Courthouse suffered to the extent ing in of the library windows by the wind, and private residences in various parts of the city sustained more or less damage, but no case of any serious injury has occurred. The Storm in Savannah-Wharves and Streets Submerged.

The Savannah papers of Sunday contain full accounts of the effects of the storm in that city, which show them to have been more disastrous to property than even the tempest of September 8th, 1854. Streets were inundated, cellars flooded, whole plantations submerged, houses unroofed and in some cases blown down, and many thousand dollars of damage done to the city itself and to the growing crops in the vicinity. The public works about the city are said to be damag I to the extent of one hundred thousand dollars. The main sewer building, on East Broad street, a canal near the Thunderbolt shell road, and several drains were torn up for hundreds of feet, destroying months of labor. The Springfield plantation, and Lamar's, Lawton's and other farms, were completely submerged, and the crops on those places rendered a total loss. Culverts and embankment were swept away on the Central, Atlantic and Gulf, and Savannah, Skidaway and Seaboard Bailroads, causing serious losses and much detention of trains. The large cotton warehouse of Dr. Clark, on the corner of West Broad and Broughton streets, which had just been completed, was damaged to the extent of $12,000, by the water flooding the inner cellar to the height of the flooring, and three steam fire engines were employed at pumping it out. Along some parts of the water front the tide rose four feet above the wharves and large quantities of lumber, cotton, &c. were floated off and lost. A large number of cattle pasturing in the fields below the city also got afloat, and many of them were drowned. Two brick yards on the canal, and the sawmill of Butler & Hardwick, each suffered many hundred dollars damage by the flood. In addition to these specific cases of damage which they report, the Savannah papers state that the most substantial residences facing the north were flooded. The streets looked like one sea, and the winds howled and roared, tearing away everything exposed to their fury some parts of the city the water stood two or hree feet deep in the principal thoroughfares Boats of light draft were paddling about the city, and or account speaks of several persons

THE RANDOLPH RIFLEMEN .- The target excursion of this company, which had been postponed from Monday last, on account of the weather, took place yesterday. The company assembled early in the morning at Military Hall, numbering nearly sixty men, under the command of Captain R. B. Artson. Their uniform of blue, trimmed with green, and black slouch hat, with green feather, made a handsome show. The company was joined soon after by the Carolina Light Infantry, under Captain H. C. Minott, parading about forty men. The whole line, preceded by Mitchell's Brass Band, paraded through Meeting, Broad and East Bay streets, attracting much attention. They marched down to the foot of Market street, and taking the steamer St. Helena, arrived without accident, notwithstanding the threatening weather, at the picnic grounds The business of the day here commenced, and the several handsome prizes put up by the

The shooting was only interrupted by dinner, which was discussed with much relish under the inspiring strains of Mitchell's Brass Band, and about 8 o'clock the companies returned to the city highly pleased with the enjoyment of the day, and the success of their excarsion. They were escorted to their places of rendezvous by about five hundred darkeys whom the music of the band attracted, and disbanded just in time to avoid a telling Devereux Bros., for his generous aid and spewhom the music of the band attracted, and

IMPROVING THE WATER FRONT.

An Important Enterprise in Progress at the Union Wharves. One of the most important improvements of the water front of this city that has been unforty-eight hours, but it still lingers along the dertaken for years is now in progress just above the foot of Market street and between the present Union wharves and the wharf of the Mount Pleasant Ferry Company. A considerable inlet has existed here which cuts off Concord street from the Union wharves nearcluding one which commenced at about 9 P. ly to the new Customhouse, and which is now to be utilized for business purposes by wind was nearly due north all day and varied | filling it up and extending a fine pier out from the new front thus obtained to a distance of 300 feet. To effect this, a strong bulkhead of palmetto timber, 224 feet long, has been thrown across the mouth of the little inlet, and all the space inside of this, which and 9 P. M. from 82 to 90 per cent., which includes an area of over 50,000 square feet, would seem to indicate that the rain of will be filled in and covered over with sheds ast evening was the clearing-up shower, as and warehouses for the accommodation of the cotton trade, and the general business of the steamship company. This will also form a continuation of Concord street, so as to make it a direct line from Hasel to Market streets: and the new street will, no doubt, be lined on both sides, in the course of a year or two, with substantial business houses. The new pler extends from about the centre of this bulkhead out into the river, and is already about half completed. It is being built in the most their anchors on Friday night, during the thorough manner by Mr. Robert Hunter, and will be three hundred feet long by fifty feet wide, leaving between it and Union wharf No. 3 a slip one hundred and fifty feet wide, and having twenty feet of water up to the bulkhead. The pier is built upon piles fifty feet long, and cased with tar paper and zinc weighing one and a half pounds to the square foot from the bed of the river to and above high water mark. The superstructure of the it will be covered with a good one story shed, It is expected that this pier will be completed and a road filled in to connect it with Eas Bay by the middle of October at the latest, but the completion of the rest of the improvement will demand considerable more time, and will be dependent 'to some degree upon the growth of the commercial necessities of this part of the city.

HOME INSURANCE COMPANY OF NEW YORK. We call attention to the card of this company. in another column. It will be seen that Major Hutson Lee has been appointed local agent at this place, to succeed the late Z. B. Oakes, Esq. This is one of the largest and best managed companies in America, and its reputation for liberal dealings and just and prompt settlements is second to none. Starting with a capital of half million, it has, by prudent nanagement, accumulated in sixteen years nearly five millions of cash assets, thus offer ing the best possible security to the assured. We congratulate Major Lee on being placed in charge of such a company, and the company on securing the services of so energetic and reliable an agent.

Major John C. Whitner, of Atlanta, Ga., is he general agent of the company, and has already in Georgia, Florida, Alabama and Misissippi won the confidence of all as an experienced underwriter and honorable gentle nan. He is descended from a family well known throughout this State, and has identified this company with our people by arranging with the Home office that all settlements for claims are left entirely with him. We are pleased to know that the interest of the company in South Carolina have lately been placed under his charge.

DELIVERED TO ORDER .- Adam Wright, a colored youth, was arrested by the detectives last night, charged with obtaining goods under false pretences. The prisoner was in the employ of Mr. Edward Lowndes, and had often been sent to a grocer at the corner of King and George streets with an order for goods. Yesterday he went as usual with an order, got the goods, and had safely concealed them in his house, when it was discovered that Mr. Lowndes had not given the order. The detectives soon worked up the matter, discovered the goods, and lodged Adam in the Guardhouse. Housekeepers may take a note, and thereby probably account for any unusual increase in the grocery bill.

PUT THE ENGINES AT WORK !- Are the city authorities waiting for the reappearance of the blazing August sun before they drain the ponds which the rain has formed in the open lots and excavations in the thickly settled quarters of the city? Unless this work is intantly begun, a terrible responsibility will rest upon the Mayor and the officials whose immediate duty it is to guard against what is detrimental to the health of the community.
